Without doubt the people and a majority of the newspapers champion the cause of Schley, and claim him the hero of Santiago bay. But the president, and those papers close to Mr. McKinley try to bolster up Sampson. The Lexington Leader, which is in close touch with Mr. McKinley and usually a fair party in its opinions, under the caption, "Sampson in History," in its Sunday edition has quite a eulogy upon "the man that wasn't there," which it closes with the sentence, "the calm, dispassionate student of history will rank him as the real hero of Santiago." The people don't believe so, Sam. On the other hand they do believe that while Schley is the hero Sampson will have the credit so far as the administration can give it him. There is evidently "a nigger in the woodpile." In brief, it is evidently a political scheme of the republican party to make Sampson the hero, his absence from the scene to the contrary notwithstanding. Sampson might have done even better than Schley had he been on the ground, but remember,
"Of all sad words of tongue or pen
The saddest are these, it might have been."

BILLY SCHOLLER, who has just started the Advance Kentuckian at Morehead, has the following very complimentary notice of our friend Sam. J. Roberts, of Lexington, than whom there is not in Kentucky or elsewhere a more affable, accommodating, courteous gentleman, nor one whom it apparently does so much good to accommodate a friend. We therefore endorse all Scholler says and could add a column of encomium without overdoing the job. But hear Bill:

BRIGHTEST NEWSPAPER MAN IN THE STATE.

"The Daily Leader, of Lexington, is now owned and edited by Hon. Sam. J. Roberts. We remember well when this brilliant young newspaper man landed in Lexington from Ohio and organized a stock company to publish this live and wide-awake newspaper. Under Mr. Roberts' skillful management, what was at first thought to be a failure, was a success from the start; and it is with great pleasure that we note the prosperity of our friend Roberts—and to know that the infant he so patiently rocked in the cradle a few years ago, has donned a "full-dress" suit and is now of lawful age, and is not only a power in local affairs, but its influence reaches across the "Pond" and it is read in every land with much interest. Success to the management, and its generous editor, and may he always enjoy good health and a prosperous business is the wish of the Advance-Kentuckian force from the "imp" to the highest officer in charge."

THE National C. W. B. M. have been put in possession of the deed to the academy site, and Hon. W. O. Mize has its receipt for the same, so that we confidently look for work to commence at once. And when it does begin it will immediately and materially interest a good many as labor will be required by the contractors. We will next week have much more to say about this school. Indeed we had an article for this issue, but a rush of correspondence crowds that and much other matter out.

STRAY SHOTS.

George H. McClain and wife stopped in Illinois en route to Oklahoma to visit friends.

Mrs. Shelton Trimble of Meno-fec county is visiting a number of sons and daughters in Coles and Edgar counties, Ill.

Frank Trimble was at Paris, Ill., last week closing up the sale of some cotton plantations in Mississippi. This is his first visit there in eighteen years.

The Kentucky colony in Coles county will not suffer from the drought. The excessive prices of broom corn and oats will make up for the loss of corn, which is now worth 60 cts.

Paris, Ill., Beacon: The friends of Wiggall S. O'Hair assembled at his residence on South Marshall street Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and treated him to an agreeable surprise, the occasion being Mr. O'Hair's 37th birthday. An elaborate dinner, brought by the sixty guests, was spread under the shade in the front yard. Those present were: George Vice, U. G. Stewart, J. Ogden O'Hair, P. R. Stoneburner, Jesse Swango, Abraham Hybarger and their families, Mrs. J. E. Davis, Mrs. Polly Hanks, Frank Trimble of Memphis, Tenn., and J. H. Swango of Terre Haute, Ind.

Reminiscent Reflections.

Mr. Smedley, Mr. Connell and Charles Kinney, all of Bourbon county, are at Swango spring for their health. Mr. Smedley was raised near Hutchinson station on the K. C. Near there (then called Cooper's), was a country school, in which the editor learned to make "pot-hooks" with a quill-pin and shoot paper wads with an alder-bush gun, and when he meets any one from that neighborhood pass in panoramic review. Mr. Kinney was a schoolmate at Millersburg with Hon. W. O. Mize, Mrs. Mize and Mrs. Belle Godsey, the latter two then the Misses Cockrell, and with the last named Mr. Kinney had his first experience of love's young dream. Being caught in the act of exchanging sweet missives, the teacher promptly punished them, assigning the task of writing 40 pages of history to Miss Belle, and inflicting some severe punishment upon young Hinney. His son is the owner and editor of the Kentucky Stock Farm, one of the greatest trotting horse papers published.

The Joke's on Pieratt.

In another part of this paper is an account of the strange actions of a tramp peddler and the attempt of Henry Pieratt to arrest him. It now transpires that the man who ran as Henry and Curt Quicksall approached the river, where the peddler was said to be, was a man for whom Henry Pieratt, as deputy sheriff, held a warrant of arrest, and not the peddler at all. The party whom Henry took to be the peddler and who ran, as Henry expresses it, as though wings would have been an embarrassment, had been dodging the officers of the law for some time, and seeing Henry he concluded he was after him. Hence he ran and made good his escape. When these facts became known the joke was run on Henry and he will continue to hear of the occurrence for some time.

TO THE DEAF.

Chas. Sublett the Nominee.

The contention between Hon. A. H. Stamper and Judge J. J. Hampton, each of whom claimed to be the regular nominee for senator from this district, was amicably settled on the 8th inst., at West Liberty by the various committees of counties composing the district by nominating Hon. Chas. Sublett of Salyersville.

Before the committees A. H. Stamper was represented by attorneys Floyd Byrd and Finley E. Fogg, while Judge Hampton was represented by Judge Redwine and attorney A. C. Baker.

This compromise nomination was suggested to Judge Hampton, warmly approved by Mr. Stamper, and acted upon by the committee.

Both aspirants for the office seemed imbued with the sole motive to settle the differences peacefully and harmoniously, and to yield to whatever was conducive to the best interests of the party, and this commendable spirit in them brought a speedy adjustment, to the entire satisfaction of all, and, as a happy sequel, friction has been eliminated and there is peace, unity and harmony in the democratic ranks.

Mr. Sublett, in accepting the nomination, addressed the meeting in his usual urbane manner, and gave expression to a firm confidence of his election in November.

Hon. Chas. Sublett is well and favorably known in the district, and upon whom democracy will unite to a man. Brainy, courageous, alert, persevering, energetic and honest, he will represent the district faithfully and with marked ability. Pick the district over and a better selection could not have been made, and the committees and the contestants for the office, Judge Hampton and A. H. Stamper, are to be congratulated upon their good work at West Liberty.

Democrats of the district will rally around their standard bearer and elect him by a rousing majority. Hurrah for Sublett!—Jackson Hustler.

The bride, accompanied by O. H. Pollard and wife of Jackson, left at once for Buffalo, N. Y., to spend a week of the honeymoon at the exposition.

The bride is the second daughter of Capt. W. L. Hurst, a well known lawyer and large land holder of our county, and is a young lady of more than ordinary accomplishments, especially in music.

The groom is now filling his second term as judge of this circuit court district, and made himself famous as chairman of the Music Hall convention which nominated the lamented and martyred governor, William Goebel, a few years ago.

"Old Rebs" at Lexington Fair.

Wednesday last was Confederate Day at the Lexington fair and 5,000 or 6,000 people swarmed the grounds. Over a thousand Confederates from the Blue Grass were there and enjoyed burgoos and the reunion. Rain in the afternoon marred the day and prevented the show rings and trotting race. The running race at one mile, however, amused the crowd for half an hour or so.

Last Warning.

Taxes are now due and must be paid or property sold. Call to day and settle.

Business Department.

Prof. J. H. Blankenship arrived in Hazel Green on last Saturday. He will have charge of the business department of the Hazel Green academy. He comes well recommended and prepared to give to our people the same courses as are given in the best business colleges. Young men and women should confer with him about these courses. There is now a great demand for book-keepers and stenographers throughout the country, and Hazel Green academy offers opportunity to young men and women to prepare themselves as such.

Mr. Blankenship has arranged with one of the best employment agencies to place all graduates of this department, upon their graduation.

John S. Harper of Gravis, Texas, who left here some 10 years ago and has since been living in Texas, came in last week and will visit relatives and friends here for two or three weeks. He subscribed for THE HERALD and to save writing several letters, requested that we publish the following:

HAZEL GREEN, KY., Aug. 19.
Mr. Cooper: If you will permit me I will write a short letter thro' the dear old HERALD back home to Gravis, Texas. Well, Maria, I am sitting at the head of my mother's grave to drop a few lines to let you know that I am well and landed safe at James Bise's on the 16th and found them all well. I want to start to Licking tomorrow. I guess I will be back in a month; then will give you all the news. So I will send you THE HERALD. Then you will be better posted. So I will close, hoping this will find you all well.
J. S. HARPER.

Henry Pieratt bought all the picture frames the agent of the Chicago Portrait Co. had left over and is selling them 50 per cent cheaper than the agent sold them. The number is limited, and if you want one you'd better move in a hurry, as they are going like hot cakes.
52-11

In our account of the meat stealing last week we did Mrs. John Hall an injustice in that we named her as the woman implicated, when in fact she was innocent of the whole transaction. The woman who nailed the meat under the table, or at least told about it, was the widow of the late Weed Hall, and aunt of John Weed Hall.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The Annual Meeting at the Salem Church, September 12-15, 1901.
The annual meeting of the West Liberty district will convene with the Salem church, in Morgan county, on Thursday evening, September 12th. A good program will be prepared and it is hoped much good may be accomplished. Much time will be given to the business of Christianity and not so much to sermons.

On Thursday evening and Friday the time will especially be devoted to Sunday school work. Robt. M. Hopkins, State Sunday School Evangelist, will have charge of this work.

We want every Christian church Sunday school within the district to be well represented, and we especially invite all Sunday school workers of all churches to attend. We want to awaken a deeper interest in Bible study, and know of no better way to begin, than through this annual meeting. Remember the date Thursday evening, September 12. Wm. H. Corp, Chr. Aug. 20, 1901.

"For the Sake of Fun, Mischievous."
A vast amount of mischief is done, too, because people neglect to keep their blood pure. This mischief, fortunately, may be undone by the faithful use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills. Non-irritating.

The Wild Man of Borneo.

A tramp spectacle peddler stopped at Sebron Trimble's on Friday and stayed there until Monday, during which time he acted in a crazy manner, running in and out of the house and claiming that some one was trying to kill him. To Mrs. Trimble he said he had once been a Catholic, had left the church, renounced the faith, and that he had been pursued with intent to murder ever since. On Monday morning Robt Brooks, who had spent Sunday night as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Trimble, was sitting at the table at breakfast when this man got up and going over to him accused him of being "The man who has caused all the trouble." With this assertion he left the house, carrying his valise, and in the evening Deputy Sheriff Pieratt and Curtis Quicksall went to the river to arrest him. When he got sight of them he broke and ran, since which he has not been seen. Who is he and what is his trouble are questions which just now are in the minds of our people?

Enlarging Their Plant.

Rose & Wheeler are preparing to build an addition to their wagon manufactory and blacksmith shop which will be two stories high and give them over 1,500 square feet of floor space. Their constantly increasing business compels this action, as their present place, 27x46 feet, is altogether inadequate. The contemplated enlargement will put them in possession of 3,000 or more floor space, and they will try and get along with this for a while, at least. By honest work and strict attention to business they have made this addition necessary, and their legion of friends hope to see them enlarge and enlarge until they shall have a metropolitan manufactory.

COUNTY NEWS NOTES.

(To insure insertion ALL correspondence must be in this office by Monday night of each week, and that nearby on Monday morning)

THE LITTLE LADY—HER BOOK

By Albert Bigelow Paine, Author of "The Hollow Tree," "The Deep Woods," etc.

Pictures by Mable L. Murphy, Louise L. Heustis and others—12mo, cloth, ornamental, illustrated, $1.00.

There is a whole year of happiness in "The Little Lady—Her Book." It is all about the Little Lady who lives in the House of Many Windows, and it has in it all the good stories and good times that have made her happy, and that will help to make many other little people happy. It takes the Little Lady from city to country and back again, and tells all she did, and said, and how at last she started to school "with another little boy named Willie," and what happened then.

Mr. Paine has written much that has given pleasure to a host of young people, but nothing that has given more pleasure than will "The Little Lady—Her Book." He is a born story-teller, and each creation of his fancy contains an equation of reality clothed in apt and dainty expression. He has the power of making a scene live before you in half a dozen sentences; and scattered through the book are exquisite bits, such as this, from "In the Moonlight Fields."

"You have to go down through the mullein patch, and then climb the rail fence. A Little Lady like you could squeeze through quite low down, where there is a crooked rail that makes a wide opening. Then after you get past the briars in the fence-corner, you see a path, but mustn't take it. You must cross the path, and then there is a little plowed place with some old apple trees, and along the edge there is milk weed—two kinds—red and pink. That isn't the place either. You have to go down another hill first, until you can't see the house, or even the barn; and there is a little pond with the moon in it and two stars."

"Why," says the Little Lady, "that's just the place where we played war, just 'zackly."

And so the story goes on, page after page; and whether it be the stories that the Big Man tells, or songs he sings to the Little Lady; their excursions to the beach or to the Far Land of Trees and Fields, or the Little Lady's quaint replies, there is a fascination in it all from which the reader cannot escape be he child or adult. Delightful touches of humor flash forth here and there, and give an added charm to the book. The illustrations clearly and beautifully interpret the author's meaning, and add to our love for the charming "Little Lady" the sympathetic "Big Man" and the "Little Woman," all of whom, if we mistake not, are drawn from life.

Holly Strutton Respected.

Holly Strutton, the Anderson county murderer, who was to pay the penalty on the gallows last Friday at Lawrenceburg has been granted a respite for 30 days. To a reporter he said: "Tell all my friends I am very happy, and that I will never hang if the truth could be known." He still retains the utmost indifference as to his fate, and is very confident that his sentence will be commuted.

O. O. Buck, Beirne, Ark., says: I was troubled with constipation until I bought DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Since then have been entirely cured of my old complaint. I recommend them. H. F. PIERATT.

The White Plumed Army.

Louisville people have been for three years working to arrange a fitting welcome and entertainment of four days for the White Plumed Army of America, which will march on the Falls City the last week of this month. $100,000 will be spent in providing a program of attractions for the visitors, who are expected to number at least 150,000—Knights Templar and all.

Eruptions, cuts, burns, scalds and sores of all kinds quickly healed by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Certain cure for piles. Beware of counterfeits. Be sure you get the original—DeWitt's. H. F. PIERATT.

One of Our Boys in Oklahoma.

CHANDLER, O. T., Aug. 12, 1901.

MR. EDITOR: Please find space in the columns of your paper for this: I left Kentucky May 28, and have been in Eastern Oklahoma ever since. I will return to Kentucky this winter, and attend school again. I was at the opening of the Kiowa and Camanche lands; there were only 13,374 claims of 160 acres each, and for those few farms there were 158,000 men and women registered. The land is opened and lucky men and women are filing their claims. The rush was very great; they could register 15,000 each day and yet every one wanted to be first. People from all over the United States were there and, of course, people of all descriptions. Poor people had immigrated there in wagons from miles away. They are the ones who ought to have had the land. Every body was satisfied with the opening. It is a fine country and is worth seeing.

I am, sincerely yours,
SAM H. WILSON.

To Save Her Child

From frightful disfigurement Mrs. Nannie Gallagher, of La Grange, Ga. applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in sores, bruises, skin eruptions, cuts, burns, scalds and piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by J. Taylor Day, of Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Son, Campton, drug stores.

Was Only a Razorback.

Dr. J. L. Pythian and wife, Dr. F. A. Stine, John E. Waterhouse, Dr. Marxmiller and other prominent citizens, of Newport, Ky., who are camping at Greenbrier, W. Va., were given a scare the other day. A fierce looking animal, which had been crippled by a shot from one of the party, rushed through the camp, overturning chairs, tables and other camp paraphernalia. The campers scrambled in all directions, only to be given a laugh a few seconds later, when the wild beast was recognized as a razor-back hog.

James White Bryantsville, Ind., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve healed running sores on both legs. He had suffered six years. Doctors failed to help him. Get DeWitt's. Accept no imitations.

H. F. PIERATT.

An Obliging Farmer.

Just outside the city of Owensboro, Ky., the other night a white man and a negro asked Henry Taylor, a farmer, to change a bill. He started to get his wallet when they pulled him from his horse and secured $122. The negro is in jail, and a posse had a cornfield surrounded where the white man was in hiding.

P. T. Thomas, Sumterville, Ala., "I was suffering from dyspepsia when I commenced taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I took several bottles and can digest anything." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only preparation containing all the natural digestive fluids. It gives weak stomachs entire rest, restoring natural condition.

H. F. PIERATT.

Changed the Date.

Chairman Shackelford, of the State Election Commission, has changed the call for the next meeting from August 15 to August 26, because so many of the county committees of both parties have failed in the required list of five names from which the county election commissioners must be selected.

If the action of your bowels is not easy and regular, serious complications must be the final result. DeWitt's Little Early Risers will remove the danger. Safe, pleasant and effective. H. F. PIERATT.

Mr. Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.:

I purchased some of the Vitae Ore of you in the latter part of March, and after taking about a half-pint of the Vitae Ore Elixir my nerves were as steady as when I was 16 years of age, and I am now past 75. For more than a year I had been trying all the patent medicines and nostrums I could hear of to build myself up, but nothing did me any good until I used Vitae Ore, which my wife brought me from your house. After using it a week I went out and did three days' as hard work as I have done in 35 years, and I was not more fatigued than I was 25 years ago over the same work. It is the grandest medicine in the world, and I want everybody in the mountains to know what it did for me so they may try it. Hoping every one who has that tired feeling incident to old age will buy Vitae Ore of you and give it a fair trial. I remain, thankfully yours for putting me on to this remedy.

JAMES LACY.

I can vouch for every word Mr. Lacy says in the above. I am his wife and bought the medicine of Mr. Cooper for him, though I did not have much faith in it, because we had tried so many things that did no good. I have also used Vitae Ore, and am stronger and in better health than for years, which I attribute to its use.
